

X Iberian Spectroscopy Conference XXVI National Spectroscopy Meeting

9 - 11 July 2018
Lisboa

<http://xcie-xxvirne.eventos.chemistry.pt/>

Faculdade de Ciências, Universidade de Lisboa (FCUL), is pleased to host the X Iberian Spectroscopy Conference (X CIE) and the XXVI National Spectroscopy Meeting (RNE), from 9 to 11 July 2018 in Lisboa (Portugal) and to invite you to participate. This joint conference will be organized by SPQ (Sociedade Portuguesa de Química) in collaboration with SEQA (Sociedad Española de Química Analítica), SEDOPTICA (Comité de Espectroscopia de la Sociedad Española de Óptica) and SEA (Sociedad de Espectroscopia Aplicada). Following the tradition from preceding meetings, a broad range of topics within the field of Molecular and Atomic Spectroscopy, including applications, is proposed, in order to attract high quality scientific presentations from researchers working in the field of spectroscopy and to stimulate the participation of young researchers and students.

The Xth edition of Iberian Spectroscopy Conference jointly with the XXVIth National Spectroscopy Meeting will follow the standards set up in the previous editions, contributing to spread the latest developments in the relevant fields comprised in the event topics. The meeting will provide a wide forum for the exchange of ideas on recent advances in research and development in the spectroscopy field, involving people from academia, research and industry. We are looking forward to meeting you in Lisboa in 2018! Please keep the dates free.

Contributions are invited and very welcome in the following areas:

Advances in Analysis Methodologies
Archaeology, Cultural & Artistic Heritage
Astrophysics & Remote Sensing
Biomolecular Spectroscopy
Chemical Analysis
Chemical Analysis & Speciation
Chemometrics
Environment
Food Analysis

Geology, Minerology
Instrumentation
New Advances in Sample Preparation
New Materials & Nanotechnology
Sensors & Imaging Techniques
Spectroscopy in vivo
Spectroscopy in Education
Surfaces and Interfaces

Presentations

- Plenary Lectures
- Invited Lectures
